

Limited Quantities Exemption

Some marks that are currently authorized for use on dangerous goods shipped as a limited quantity will expire on December 31, 2020. To ensure that your consignment is properly marked and to avoid rejected consignments or non-compliances, please note the following requirement in the Transportation of Dangerous Goods Regulations (TDGR):

Until 12/31/2020

As per subsection 1.17(5) and 1.17(6) of the TDGR, the following marks for a limited quantity are accepted:

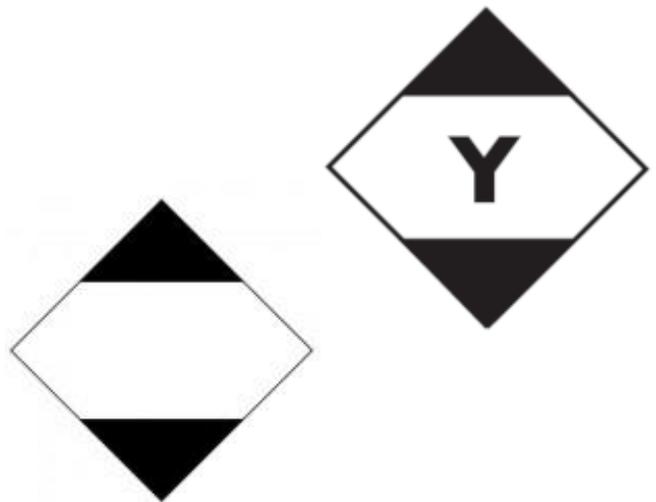

As per 1.17(6)(d)

OR

- the words “Limited Quantity”;
- the abbreviation “Ltd. Qty.”;
- the words “Consumer Commodity”; or
- the UN number of each limited quantity of dangerous goods preceded by the letters “UN”, placed within a square on point

From 01/01/2021

As per subsection 1.17(5) of the TDGR, only these following marks for a limited quantity are accepted:

MARKS IN TEXT FORMAT AND THE WHITE SQUARE ON POINT WITH UN NUMBER ARE NO LONGER ACCEPTED AFTER DECEMBER 31, 2020
